Mr. Bahram Khan Ujjan, advocate for the applicant.

Mr. Ali Anwar Kandhro, Addl. P. G.

-.-.-.-.-

Comments from the learned trial Court have been received. Mr. Ujjan has however, vehemently argued that portions of it are not correct and that this Court had stayed proceedings on 16.09.2021, but the learned trial Judge appointed an advocate at State expense and had announced his judgment before the order could have reached him at 12'o clock in the afternoon. Mr. Ujjan has also passionately argued certain other areas where the learned trial Judge may have conducted the trial in a hurried manner as a consequence of which miscarriage of justice might have taken place. Notwithstanding the foregoing, it has also been brought to my attention that the final judgment in the case has already been announced. Accordingly, there is no point now in proceeding with the transfer application. Mr. Ujjan agrees that this issue of miscarriage of justice due to faulty trial is a question now that will have to be determined during the appeal proceedings. I understand that the convict has already filed such an appeal which is yet to come up for hearing. Instant Crl. Transfer Application stands disposed of as having become infructuous along with the listed applications.
