After arguing the matter at length, learned counsel for the applicant/ complainant submits that he is not pressing instant Revision application if possession of the property in question, which is presently in the hands of private respondents No.1 to 5 and five unknown persons, be handed over to the Irrigation department subject to decision of trial court/ Court of Senior Civil Judge as Irrigation department has filed suit for possession of the said property. He further submits that any decision made by the learned trial Court will be binding upon the applicant and Irrigation department. Such proposal is not opposed by learned counsel for the private respondents and learned D.P.G.

In view of above, instant Criminal Revision Application is disposed of, however, respondents No.1 to 5 are directed to hand over peaceful possession of the property in question to the Irrigation department. The Irrigation department is further directed not to create third party interest and maintain status quo till decision of learned Senior Civil Judge, where suit is already pending, which was filed by the Irrigation department. At this juncture, learned D.P.G submitted that private respondents may be directed to hand over peaceful possession of said land to the Irrigation department within one week. Learned counsel appearing on behalf of private respondents undertakes that same shall be done within a week.
