I have examined this Crl. Revision Application directed against the order of dismissal of application under Section 22-A Cr.P.C.

The brief facts given in the annexure-B to the petition i.e. letter addressed to SHO P.S Sachal, clearly indicates that no case of criminal nature was made out. It is alleged in the said letter that on 07.9.2017 when he was living a happy life with his wife for the last 10 years, he was administered sleeping pills with tea and his wife on 7.9.2017 took away cash amount of Rs.9,00,000/- and gold ornaments. When he wake up or when effect of intoxication to him was normal next morning, however, he checked whereabouts of his wife from his relatives. He came to know that his wife went away to her native place Sargodha and his son is also with her in the village. Applicant instead of filing suit for custody of child under G&W Act, he after delay of five months on 14.2.2018 tried to lodge complaint but police has refused to entertain it and learned Session Judge in a comprehensive order has also given reason for dismissing his application under Section 22-A Cr.P.C. The proposed accused lives in Sargodha. Therefore, no case is made out to entertain this Cr. Rev. Application. It is dismissed.
