This constitution petition was filed on 11.7.2018 impugning the order passed by the Appellate Court in rent matter. On the first date of hearing since the documents such as rent application was not filed, learned counsel sought seven days' time. Then on 28.8.2018 none was present and today again none is present. I have gone through the record, the ejectment has been ordered for non-compliance of the tentative rent order. Petition against concurrent findings of the two Court below on an application under Section 16(2) SRPO, 1979 is not maintainable for the simple reason that such order is based on the record maintained by the Court itself and no evidence from the either side is required. It cannot be a case of misreading or non-reading of evidence. However, this petition is dismissed for non-prosecution alongwith listed applications.
