Controversy, per learned counsel, has been resolved in terms of announcement made in CP No.D-2360 of 2019. The conclusion drawn therein in terms of last two paragraphs are hereunder :-

“Today, Counsel for Inland Revenue Department submits that some orders have already been passed in Civil Suits on identical facts and this Court may pass appropriate orders to the extent of return and or discharge of Bank Guarantee(s), whereas, the department reserves its right to examine the respective Tax Returns and may seek passing of amended assessment orders in accordance with law.

In view of hereinabove facts and circumstances of the case, since the controversy has been decided by the Hon'ble Supreme Court; therefore, all listed petitions are disposed of in terms of the said judgment and the concerned Commissioner Inland Revenue shall act accordingly; whereas, the concerned Collectorate(s) are directed to discharge and or release the pending Bank Guarantees to the Petitioners.

Office to place copy of this order in all connected files”.

By applying the rationale this petition is disposed of mutatis mutandis, with no order as to costs.
