Mr. Sami Ahsam, Advocate for the petitioner

Through instant petition, the petitioner has sought direction to the respondent to update their official Website and place proper information about ISPR (Inter Services Public Relations) with regard to its history, and introduction.

At the very outset, Counsel for the petitioner was confronted to the order dated 25.2.2015, whereby, the petitioner was directed to satisfy the Court as to maintainability of instant petition. Counsel for the petitioner could not give a satisfactory response to such query of the Court, whereas, on perusal of Memo of petition, we do not see any justification to issue any such directions to respondent No.2, to update their official website as desired. We may observe that maintaining a website by a particular department or an authority is not mandatory under any law, nor the Counsel for the petitioner could refer to any such law, whereby, the respondent No.2 has to maintain its website in some prescribed manner. The purpose of maintaining the website is to give information to the public for their benefit and such disclosure on the website cannot be dictated to the whims and choice of the petitioner. The only purpose of the website is to provide general information for convenience of the public at large.

In view of such position, we are of the view that instant petition is misconceived in fact and law. Accordingly, the same is hereby dismissed in limine with cost of Rs.10,000/- to be deposited in the account of the High Court Clinic.
