Dated 22.01.2024

Mr. Khursheed Javed, Advocate for the Appellant.

.....

An Execution, which was dismissed-in-default, was restored without notice to the appellant, as claimed. The appellant perhaps is aggrieved of the sale proclamation which set the terms including valuation. In case the appellant is aggrieved of any such valuation, he may bring a better bidder on the day of auction. This is not a term to which the appellant could be aggrieved when the proclamation was followed by a notice in terms of Order-XXI Rule-66 CPC as per record. No interference is required; the appeal as such is dismissed along with listed applications.
