- 1.For order on office objection
- 2.For hg of MA No.4505/2024
- 3.For hg of main case

12.08.2024.

Ms. Zahrah Sehr Vayani, advocate for petitioner.
Mr. Naveed Ahmed Narejo, advocate for respondent No.2.
Mr. Meeran Muhammad Shah, Addl. Advocate General.

Anxiety of the petitioner is that despite Family Suit for maintenance and payment of arrears allowed and orders passed by the Executing Court to seek its compliance, respondent No. 2 is not complying with the same and maintaining the petition.

Counsel appearing for respondent No. 2 submits that partially, respondent No.2 has satisfied the decree and he intends to comply with the remaining part of decree within a period of one month. He further undertakes that future maintenance would also be paid regularly.

In view of this fact, these petitions are disposed of along with listed applications in the terms and undertaking given by the counsel for respondent No. 2. However, in case, respondent No. 2 does not comply with the remaining part of decree viz-a-vie outstanding payment, the Executing Court may take a action against him in accordance with law and expedite the matter.
