Mr.Aqeel Ahmed Siddiqui, Advocate for the application

Through C.M.A. No.186/2019, the applicant seeks review/recall of the order dated 25.04.2018, whereby Civil Revision Application No.273 of 2011 was dismissed with costs of Rs.200,000/- payable to the charity fund of Respondent No.13. The ground urged is that documents relating to the disputed property, though then in his custody, were not produced at the time of hearing and were found later.

2. Heard. Perused the record. The jurisdiction of review under Section 114 read with Order XLVII Rule 1, C.P.C. is confined to the grounds specified therein; it is not an appeal in disguise and cannot be invoked to reopen a matter on its merits. The applicant relies on documents which, by his own account, were already in his custody. The application does not explain how, despite due diligence, those documents could not have been produced earlier. Nor does it point to any error apparent on the face of the record or any other sufficient ground for review. The order sought to be reviewed considered the controversy and the concurrent findings of the Courts below. The plea now raised would require a fresh examination of the merits, which is outside the scope of review. The application is misconceived and devoid of merit. Accordingly, C.M.A. No.186/2019 is dismissed.
