This Revision Application has been filed against concurrent findings of two courts below and is pending since 1999. Nobody is appearing in this case on behalf of the parties for last 10 years. However, I have examined the court file and the memo of Revision Application and found that not a single ground has been taken by the learned counsel for the applicant that how concurrent findings are contrary to the facts and evidence on record. Nothing has been pointed out in the Revision Application to point out any misreading and non reading of evidence by two courts below.

Since no case of misreading or non reading is established, therefore, this Revision Application is dismissed on merits.
