This constitutional petition is directed against the decree of Khula in Family Suit No.763 of 2013. There is no case of misreading and non-reading of evidence and even otherwise when there is a bald statement of the woman that she does not want to live with her husband it is enough to dissolve the marriage. In these circumstances, the petition is not maintainable. Despite the fact that this petition has no merit for consideration even otherwise the petition does not lie against such order. Accordingly, the petition is dismissed.
